Ellie Mae's
Transformation

pg. 3

[FROM THE CEO]

Dear Friends,

As 2019 comes to an end with the season of thanks, giving and holiday cheer, I would like to extend my sincerest gratitude to you for supporting the Nebraska Humane Society! Your help has saved thousands of precious lives, giving hope and second chances to the lost, abandoned and abused animals that enter our doors every year.

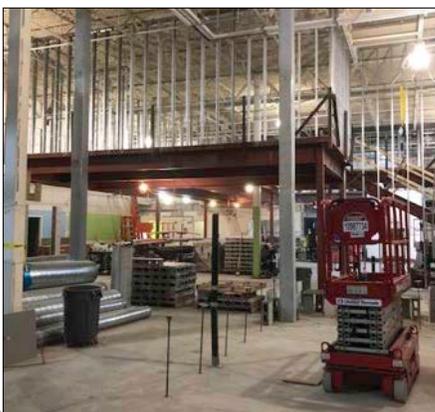

Your generosity has further allowed us to secure 100% of the needed funding for The Judy Varner Adoption and Education Center project that is scheduled to be completed in March 2020! We are thrilled with the progress made toward realizing this state-of-the-art renovation that will forever change the lives of the animals we serve and the people who love them. I invite you to visit and experience the new adoption space in the spring.

From all of us at the Nebraska Humane Society, we wish you a joyful holiday season and thank you for loving the animals.

An Amazing Transformation

She looked like an animal you'd see by the side of the road, after it had been hit by a car... a filthy mass of stained hair, misshapen by huge mats.

Ellie Mae was carried into the Nebraska Humane Society in a green storage tote, because she couldn't walk. In fact, she couldn't move. She was found in the home of her owner, who had died, by those sent to clean up the house. They didn't know she had a dog.

Our medical team sprang into action. "I hope her legs can be saved," a concerned Dr. Amber Horn confided. She was thinking back to another case, in which matted hair had cut off the blood flow of a dog's leg, requiring a partial amputation.

But as the team clipped, they found something extraordinary. Ellie Mae's legs were pink with blood flow. The added matting and length turned out to be seven inch toenails that were cocooned in hair, feces, and years of grit.

After an hour, the team had removed nearly 9 pounds of smelly, matted weight from Ellie Mae's body. One foot was infected. She needed hernia surgery, a dental, and antibiotics to ward off more infection. She also had some muscle wasting in her back end after years of immobility.

But Ellie is an intrepid little soul. Twelve hours later, she was up and gingerly walking, ready to get on with sniffing, exploring and being a dog. Her sweet personality came shining through. She was the darling of the medical suite as she healed and recovered.

Today, she is a happy, healthy girl. She was adopted by Bette Mae, a Shih Tzu lover, in need of a faithful companion.

Your support makes stories like Ellie's possible. Your help becomes hope for those still desperately needing a second chance. Thank you!

High Flying Rescue

Animals find the craziest places to get stuck, which means Animal Control has to get creative with rescues. This summer a young, daredevil raccoon decided to climb the new construction at UNMC, wedge himself in, and not budge. Animal Control Officer (ACO), Brian Peters assessed the situation and decided the safest option was to request the assistance of Sampson Construction workers, who were on site with a crane. ACO Peters roped up and then rode the crane up several floors where the little masked bandit was hiding. After some tricky maneuvering, the two made it down unscathed. The raccoon, dubbed “Rocky,” was checked out and released.

That’s what we call going (way) above and beyond to help animals!

Cutting Edge Rescue

From cranes to scissors, the tools of the trade vary for our Animal Control Officers.

On a sunny day, officers Jen Palik and Misty Binau got a call that two Great Horned Owls were stuck in a soccer net at Hitchcock Park. A compassionate city employee, who was mowing the field, spotted the struggling birds and called NHS.

The officers worked quickly to calm the scared raptors and then gently cut away the net. Fontenelle Forest’s Raptor Recovery arrived on scene to pick up the birds, check them over, give them a free meal and a band, and re-release them into the wild where they belong!

A shout out to everyone in the community who reports animals in distress. We are so grateful to be a part of the effort to give these majestic birds a second chance.

Cock Fighting Rescue

After months of working on leads to a cockfighting operation, NHS Animal Control Officers were able to seize a large number of roosters, hens, and chicks, from a property in Bellevue, Nebraska. It was late September, when the 163 birds were taken into our custody. This is the second largest of three cockfighting cases that NHS has seen during the past 3 years. While the case went through the legal process, NHS staff and volunteers helped feed, water, clean, and provide medical treatment to all 163 individually housed birds.

It was challenging and strained our resources, but it was the right thing to do. No animal should have to fight for its life for human “entertainment.”

You Walked The Walk

Despite a delay from mother nature, the Margre Durham Walk for the Animals was a tail thumpin' good time.

Hundreds of people and their dogs enjoyed a slightly soggy, but otherwise great day! Along with the 5K run and mile-long walk, participants enjoyed photos, giveaways, dog games, a kid's zone, silent auction, food and beer garden. This event really shows the power of our pet loving community -- banding together for fun and fundraising. The winners are the homeless animals who benefit from the support. We couldn't do what we do without our community, so big thanks for making September 29th an inspired day!

Thank you to our walkers and sponsors!

‘Tis the season to be giving - to the animals!

The holidays can be all hustle and bustle, but taking time to give back to the animals can bring you – and them joy! The trick is to help in a way that is meaningful to you. Here are a few ideas in which you can help the animals that will have a lasting effect long after the holiday flurry is over.

1. Animals love presents too

Everyone loves a gift and animals are no different. A new squeaky toy, a warm blanket, a Kuranda bed are all great ideas that will keep the animals at NHS happy and comfy. Visit our wish list www.nehumanesociety.org/wishlist.

2. Support the animals while you shop

While buying a gift for Billy or Susie, you can support the animals – it’s so easy! If you select NHS as your charity on AmazonSmile, Amazon will donate a portion of your purchase to the animals at the shelter. TAGG – Together a Greater Good – is a free app on your phone that allows you to upload a photo of your receipts from a large list of participating businesses. Then, select “NHS” as your charity of choice and voila – a percentage of your sale comes back to the shelter!

3. A tribute for the person who has everything

Not sure what to give that ‘hard to buy for’ person in your life? How about a gift to the animals in their name? You can purchase a personalized brick to be placed in front of the shelter, or you can send an e-card by visiting www.nehumanesociety.org/honor-giving. Your gift, in their honor, would help animals find their forever homes.

4. Where there’s a will, there’s a way

Add a little warm and fuzzy to your plan this holiday season! When you make a gift to NHS through your will or trust, you can preserve your family’s legacy, and best of all, help save the lives of pets in need. Learn more at www.nehumanesociety.org/plannedgiving.

5. Donate

While we rely on the financial donations of friends like you year-round, your gift this holiday season can have twice the impact! Thanks to a generous donor, all gifts given through December 31, 2019, will be matched – up to $150,000. Every gift, no matter the size, makes a difference. To give visit www.nehumanesociety.org/donate.

For more information on how you can support NHS, please contact Kathy at 402-905-3435 or kroum@nehumanesociety.org

Tails of Success

We adopted Junior earlier this year. For the first couple of weeks he was very timid and hid under our couch, finally he came out of his shell and is a happy boy. He is extremely playful and is healthy as can be! We are so happy that we adopted him (even though I've never been a cat person). We wanted to thank all of you for the help you gave to us in our adoption process.

- Natalie Bayliff

My husband and I adopted Stu and we are so in love! The adoption counselor at NHS actually matched us with Stu and he is the perfect match. Stu is energetic, fun, and the SWEETEST. When we come home each day, his tail literally wags in circles - it's my favorite part of the day! Stu had his leg amputated during his time at NHS and his strength has blown us away. He doesn't let it hold him back and we are amazed by his resiliency. Stu has some anxiety and trauma, we assume, from his early years but I have been so grateful for the behavior staff at NHS who responds to all of our emails quickly and has helped us and Stu immensely. Additionally, we took the Adult Skills class and learned so much! Thank you for all of the amazing tools you have to help make integrating a new dog into our family as successful as possible.

- Kathleen McBee

We adopted Riley on August 30th. He is a dream dog and fits our family perfectly. We could not have found a better dog. He is a true success story! - Joseph and Kathy Justinger

I brought Stoli home from NHS after losing my 18-year-old girl Molly. Stoli acclimated well to my 20-year-old cat named Lamont. But Stoli wanted to play and Lamont was unaccustomed to a roommate with a pulse. Still they ended up friends. I renamed Stoli Senator Laverne Biggsley, but I end up calling him Bigger. When Lamont passed a short while ago, The Senator was actually sad. He's come around now (more than I have). I love my big boy! His former parents can rest assured he is healthy, happy, and loved. Thank you for everything NHS did to give me a beautiful big galoot Senator! - Joan Kutschmarski

Moby Max came into NHS with a condition called Dry Eye that had blinded him and was very painful. His owners likely didn't know how to deal with it and were requesting euthanasia. Since he was blind already, NHS vets opted to remove his eyes (and his pain). His foster mom, Erin Wetzel, fell in love with this gentle little dog who adapted quite well to his challenges. After making the commitment to adopt, Erin and Moby went on to therapy dog training, and, in June, did their first gig. Moby charmed everyone at Methodist Hospital, cuddling and offering comfort like the pro he is! Who says he's handicapped?

Thank you NHS for helping us pick the right pet to fit into our carnival household. Chester made himself right at home. - Natalie Wittleder
